

QUESTION HUNT

A fun team game to (re)discover the power of questions

1,250 THB/40 US$

Questions break down barriers ... and are a powerful way to connect with colleagues or friends. Re-learning to ask great questions can be fun.

This game is designed with a twist forcing players to come up with questions under constraints. These constraints take us out of usual thinking patterns, and the results can be both thought-provoking and hilarious !

For trainers, coaches, facilitators or Action Learning coaches who want to help their session participants practice and get more comfortable with questions.

For in-house teams who see the value of practicing asking questions to build real connections.

*« This really helps to ask questions out of the box ! »
« I didn't know asking questions could be such fun ... »*
